What is I-Dagen?

I-Dagen is the annual career fair for students in Industrial Engineering and Management at Chalmers, bringing together ambitious students and leading companies from a wide range of industries. Every year, participants have the opportunity to explore career paths, build valuable connections and attend inspiring lectures and activities throughout the day.

Organized by the Division of Industrial Engineering and Management since 1983, I-Dagen has grown into one of the programme's largest recurring events. Each year, around 30 companies visit campus to meet talented students, share insights into their organizations and discuss future career opportunities.

Whether you're searching for an internship, a master's thesis, your first full-time position or simply want to broaden your network, I-Dagen offers a unique opportunity to engage with industry in an informal and inspiring setting. Make the most of the day by visiting the company booths, attending the lectures and joining the evening banquet.

We look forward to welcoming you to I-Dagen 2026!

A Word From the Project Manager

Get Ready for I-Dagen on September 30th!

We're excited to welcome you to this year's Industrial Engineering and Management Career Fair at Chalmers! I-Dagen brings together students and leading companies for a day full of inspiration, networking and new opportunities. Whether you're looking for your future employer, an internship or simply want to explore different career paths, there's something for everyone.

The day begins with a breakfast seminar hosted by Boston Consulting Group (BCG), followed by a lunch lecture with Jonas von Essen, two-time Memory World Champion and one of Sweden's most inspiring speakers. In the evening, we'll wrap up the day with our annual banquet at Jacy'z, celebrating another successful I-Dagen together.

Take a look through this year's catalogue to discover the companies you'll meet, the activities taking place throughout the day and everything you need to make the most of I-Dagen 2026. We look forward to seeing you there!

Interview sessions

Looking for a more personal way to connect with companies and learn what it's really like to work there? An interview session gives you the opportunity to meet directly with one of the companies attending I-Dagen. You can choose to meet either digitally or in person, giving you the chance to introduce yourself, ask questions and learn more about the company and its opportunities. Each session lasts 25 minutes and can be a valuable first step towards your future career – and in some cases, could even lead to a formal interview.

Why take part in an interview session?

Put your communication skills to the test and gain valuable experience in an interview setting, helping you feel more confident when applying for future positions.

Create meaningful connections with company representatives and potentially open doors to internships, job opportunities and future collaborations.

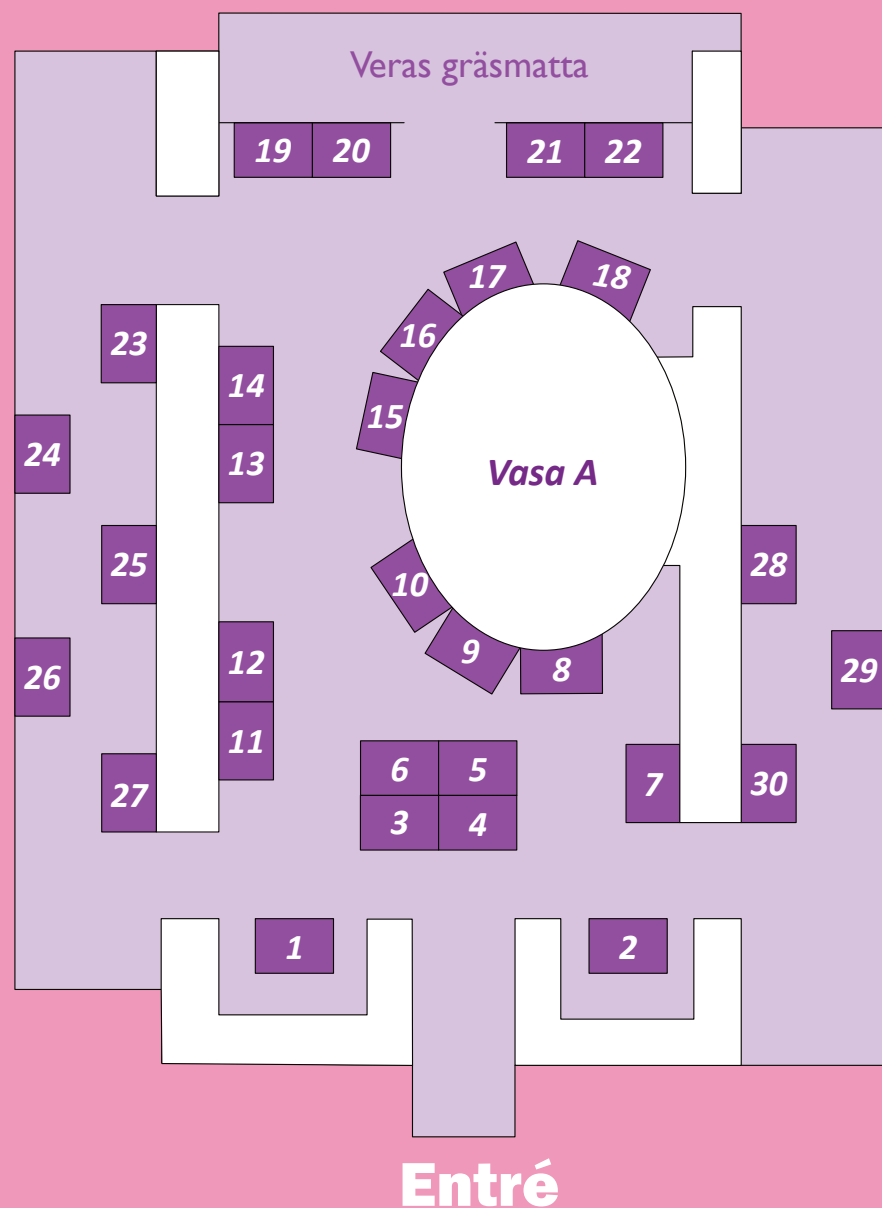

Get a closer look at the industry by hearing directly from professionals about current challenges, trends and what companies are looking for in future employees.

Please note that applications for interview sessions have closed by the time you are reading this catalogue.

Interview sessions will be available with...

Wint is a Swedish tech company that has developed a digital service for automating business administration. You could say that Wint functions as a “digital finance department” for small and medium-sized businesses.

What Wint does: Automates accounting, invoicing, payroll, and payments. It connects banking, accounting, and other systems so that much of the administration is handled automatically. It gives business owners a real-time overview of their finances and cash flow.

Vision: To enable business owners to spend less time on paperwork and instead focus on their core business.

Customers: Primarily small and medium-sized companies that do not want to manage their accounting and ongoing administration themselves, but also larger companies looking to streamline their finance departments.
